

National Institute of Open Schooling
Senior Secondary Course- Political Science
Lesson 21: Public Opinion and Pressure Group
Worksheet – 21

- Q.1 The views and interests of the people constitute the core of the democratic system, write your own views on the given statement.
- Q.2 Every Government respects the feeling and views of the public and work, accordingly, refer the given statement and write the importance of public view for any government.
- Q.3 Public opinion is generally understood as the opinion of public, in light to the statement write the difference between both.
- Q.4 The public opinion is not the opinion of any special individual or the opinion of the majority, in context of the statement make the list of the characteristics of public opinion.
- Q.5 Public opinion is essential for successful working of democratic communication in system, Explain the statement in your own words?
- Q.6 Public opinion promotes wide awareness and different point of views in the citizens, Inference to the statement express your views with suitable example.
- Q.7 There is no fixed or automated process for the formation of public opinion, in context with this statement answer the following.
- A) Role of Political Socialization to create public opinion,
 - B) Electronic and print media contribution to create public opinion,
- Q.8 The voluntary groups protect the special interest of the individuals in society, in context with the statement write the meaning and definition of voluntary group.
- Q.9 The Pressure group can be divided into different categories according to their aims and objectives, about the statement write down the difference between Profession pressure group and Institutional Pressure group with example.
- Q.10 The Pressure Groups adopt various methods to influence the process of the government” Explain the given statement and write down the working methods of Pressure groups.